Remember When...

Foreign Exchange Students

Left to right: Matthieu Dreyer (Switzerland), Midori Fujiwara (Japan), Juliana Sales (Brazil), Tomas Brantes (Chile)

Being exchange student is the best experience in my life.

I loved very much Fermi High School. The principal, the counselors, the teachers, the friends, all the people that I met here were very nice to me.

I wanna thank all the people that helped me all the time that I needed.

Thanks to principal for all days he asked for me, "How are you doing?" I loved it.

Of course sometimes I was not feeling good, but when I talked with my friends at school I felt better. All the people at Fermi made me feel happy all the time.

Thank you so much for accepting me with open arms.

I was very happy here. I love all of you. I will never forget you and I will miss you.

Kisses,

Juliana Kos Sales

BRAZIL

I'll never forget having a great time at Fermi. I had a chance to study new subjects, in a very different way from the teaching style I knew at home. That made me confused at first, but as soon as things got better. Because everybody was friendly and very nice to me. I have special friends here. I can't express how thankful for everybody I am.

Midori Fujiwara

JAPAN

Fermi Rocks! Everyone is so friendly, especially the girls! I'd like to take you all back to Chile with me. GO FERMI!!!!

Tomas Brantes

CHILE

Fermi is wicked cool! Being an exchange student in this school rocks! Everyone is so friendly. Thank you for your hospitality! You are all welcome in Switzerland to party with me! Merci et a bientot!

"High school is closer to the core of the American experience than anything else I can think of." -Kurt Vonnegut, Jr.

As graduation creeps toward us, so does our entry into the "real world". This world free of rules and restrictions, devoid of parents and curfews, and lacking any boundaries or limits has been our dream since we first stepped foot in Fermi three years ago. Now, with June upon us, this world we longed to be a part of is just a diploma away.

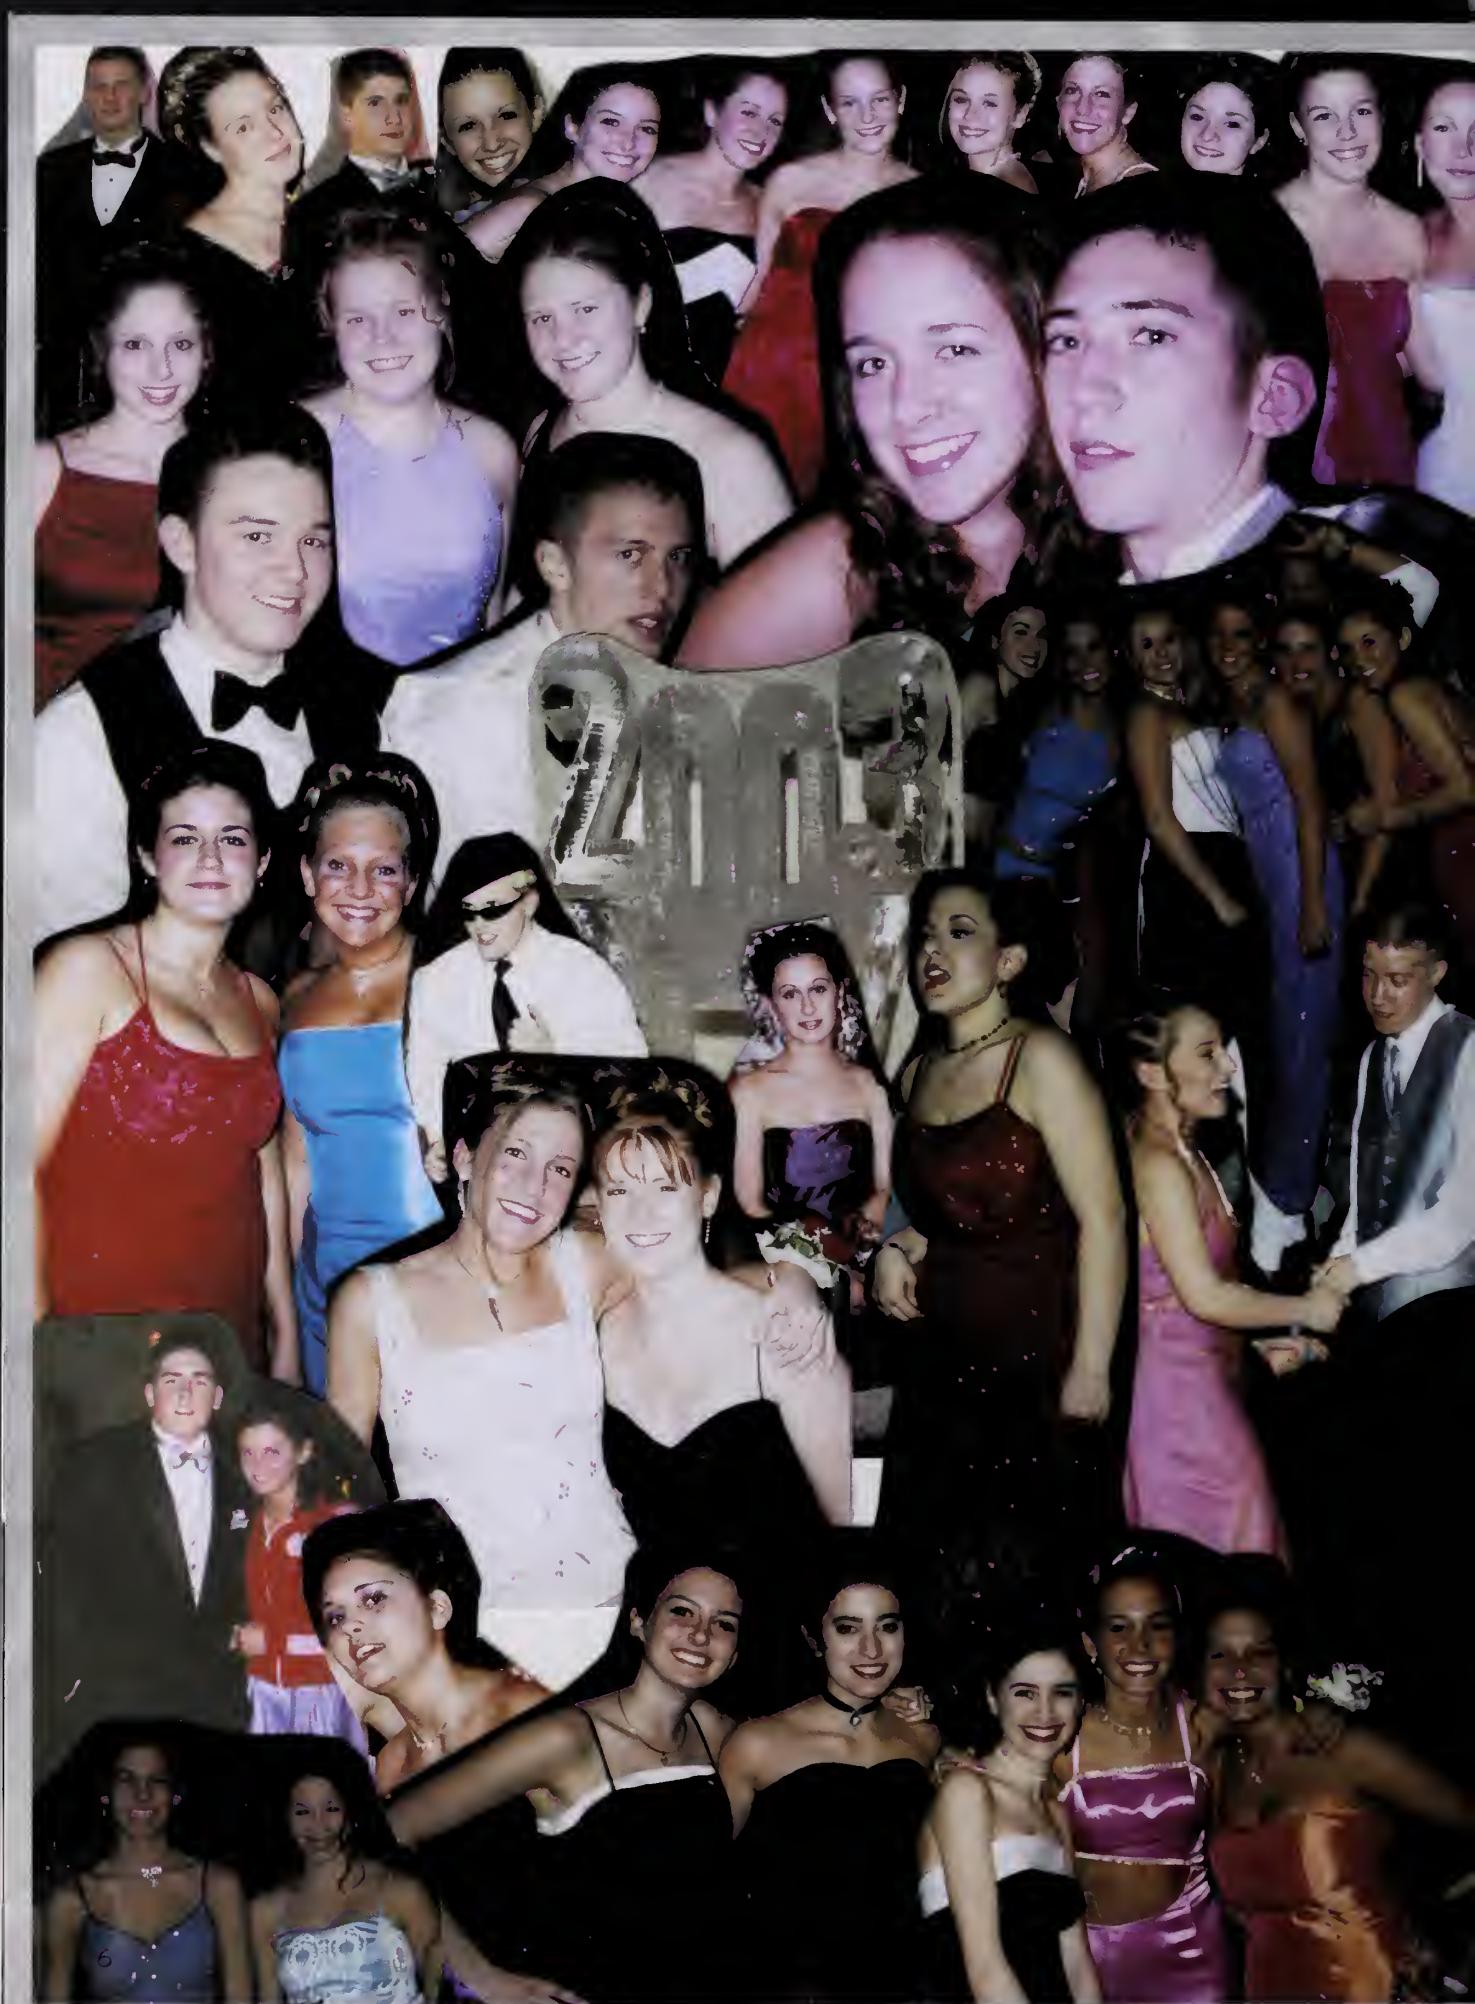

As we prepare to leave the world we have known, I urge that everyone takes with them every experience they have acquired in the years spent at Fermi. Each of these experiences has taught its own unique lesson that, in fact, has exposed us to this "real world" more than we are aware.

In the classroom we have learned more than just the Pythagorean theorem, the elements on the Periodic table, and the Presidents of the United States. Each test we have taken, each paper we have written, and each project we have prepared has been an experience for us to grow from. These experiences have offered us insight into an even more significant lesson, and that is how to learn. If nothing else, every one of us will leave Fermi knowing how to teach ourselves anything necessary to survive and succeed in this "real world".

Every person we pass in the hallway, be it a classmate, a stranger, or even a teacher, has granted us an experience to carry with us. My own friends have given me experiences with laughter and with tears. I have learned lessons of love, lessons of loyalty and even lessons of betrayal. Various classmates have given me experiences dealing with discrimination and intolerance. From them I have learned of malevolence and spite. Other classmates have shown me qualities of kindness, courage, and individuality. They have taught me lessons of humanity, lessons of fortitude, and lessons about character. Teachers, too, have given me experiences as they both praised and criticized me, granted me freedom and disciplined me, challenged and encouraged me. I have thus learned lessons of pride and humility, overindulgence and self-control, failure and success.

In every one of those experiences I have gotten a taste of the atmosphere and values of this "real world" that you and I anticipate. All that will be different now is the lack of protection we have grown up with. I genuinely believe the lessons I have learned from each of these experiences will help me to adjust to the new life I will be living, and I hope that you too will utilize what you have learned from your experiences at Fermi to aide you in your own adjustments. They can only offer insights into our new experiences. Our time has come to go out into this new, "real", and unprotected world. Good luck in your future, class of 2003.

Love always,
Emily Hayden

Administration

Dear Class of 2003:

It does not seem possible that four years have passed since you came to Fermi as ninth graders. You have grown physically, emotionally, and intellectually. Soon you will be leaving Fermi to explore new paths. I want to take this opportunity to offer some parting observations and a few pieces of advice to all of you. Your high school years have been marked by major and life-changing events on both the national and international scene. You have lived through one of the most tumultuous and challenging times in our country's history. You are prepared to meet the many challenges that lie ahead.

You have done well as a class and have set many new standards of achievement in academics, athletics, and involvement in school activities. Continue to be curious and strive to learn something new every day. It will keep you young.

As you move on and away from Fermi, keep in mind that your teachers and counselors have prepared you well to face the future and its many demands.

Do not lose sight of the importance of friendship. Keep in touch

Mr. Anthony Torre

Assistant Superintendent of Schools

Mr. Paul K. Newton

To the Class of 2003,

Almost four years ago, you entered Enrico Fermi High School as wide-eyed freshmen. Your few first days were filled with anxiety about your new surroundings, with trepidation about the teachers you were meeting for the first time, and with curiosity about what would happen to you over the next four years of high school. Graduation seemed so far away and such a distant event. Some of you might not have been sure that you would be able to complete the journey. Now, here you are, on the doorstep of the rest of your lives. Many of you may soon experience those same fears and questions in whatever you choose to pursue after high school. The difference is that now you are well prepared for those challenges. Instead of learning as you go, you will be able to apply what you learned from your high school experiences in ways that will make these challenges seem quite manageable and less daunting.

As you look back over these past four years I hope you realize the profound mark that you, the Class of 2003, have left on our school. You have been leaders in the classrooms, in musical and dramatic performances, in the athletic arenas, in school government, and in numerous school activities. You resurrected Homecoming and made it a weekend that we will all remember. We are very proud of you. It is my sincere wish that you will always remember that you are part of our Enrico Fermi High School family and that we care about you a great deal. You will always be welcome here. Good luck to each and every one of you!

Sincerely,

Paul K. Newton

Administration

Dear Class of 2003:

It does not seem possible that four years have passed since you came to Fermi as ninth graders. You have grown physically, emotionally, and intellectually. Soon you will be leaving Fermi to explore new paths. I want to take this opportunity to offer some parting observations and a few pieces of advice to all of you. Your high school years have been marked by major and life-changing events on both the national and international scene. You have lived through one of the most tumultuous and challenging times in our country's history. You are prepared to meet the many challenges that lie ahead.

You have done well as a class and have set many new standards of achievement in academics, athletics, and involvement in school activities. Continue to be curious and strive to learn something new every day. It will keep you young.

As you move on and away from Fermi, keep in mind that your teachers and counselors have prepared you well to face the future and its many demands.

Do not lose sight of the importance of friendship. Keep in touch with each other and be ready to help one another in the future. You live in a great and good country. Appreciate and take advantage of the many opportunities that lie before you, but remember to always give something back.

Know that character does matter. In the final analysis, it is all that matters.

Finally, the only true measure of whether a person or a group of people has had a positive impact is best gauged by the answer to the question, "Will you be missed?" Know that the Class of 2003 will be missed.

Sincerely,

Richard H. Gray

Faculty

Dearest Faculty,

Over the past years here at Fermi, we have had the pleasure of getting to know you. It is our regret that it hadn't been longer. We just wanted to send a special thank you to those teachers who opened themselves and welcomed us, as well as everyone else, into their lives. We have never met teachers as kind and sincere as those here at Fermi. We hope that the students following the graduating class of 2003, appreciate your knowledge and teachings that you have been most gracious to offer. Honestly, we cannot thank you enough. Without your appreciation and desire to teach us, we would not possess the desire, ourselves, to learn. It has come through the teachers here at Fermi, that we have learned how to help ourselves and others. You have done an exceptional job at preparing us for a greater journey. We realize that we may never encounter people like you again, but because of your passion to do more than teach, we will always have that notion that we can come back here and you will be there for us. We will miss you all. We'll always think of you and how much you did for us, and you will always have a place in our heart.

Thank you forever

Your students,

Patti Cook and Jess Browne

Fermi Homecoming

On the first weekend in October, a long lost tradition was brought back to Fermi. Beginning with a bonfire on Friday night, homecoming weekend started off with an explosion.

Provided by the Enfield Fire Department, the inferno attracted friends and teachers to enjoy a peaceful, fun-filled evening. As the night grew old, Fermi's crowd gathered near the auditorium to hear great music, performed by student-based bands like CORE, headed by our own Mr. Dube, the Jazz Ensemble, and other various artists.

Saturday started with a spirit-filled parade, leading into a football game against Hartford Public. Each class built a float, and they were driven along the parade route, joined by Mr. Newton, members of the Board of Education, a number of teachers, and the Fermi Marching Falcons. Also among the participants in the parade were the Homecoming Court, led by Homecoming King and Queen, Daniel Abar and Shannon Campbell.

The weekend was rounded out by a semi-formal dance on Saturday night. The gym was filled to the max as students and teachers danced the night away. The entire weekend was a huge success and provided all with memories that will not soon be forgotten.

During the 2002 season, we became an entirely new team with only 3 returning varsity players, and a new varsity coach. Even though we didn't have as many wins as we wanted, we pulled together as a team and made the best of the season - no matter how much we were down by. We wish the best to the girls coming back for another round and GOOD LUCK!

Cultural Arts Assembly

Looks like Mike Stewart, Dan Butrymowicz, Greg Fay, and Mark DePace, are plotting another plan.

On Thursday March 6, the student senate presented a Cultural Arts Assembly. During the assembly students and faculty were able to get a sneak peek of the Fermi Lamplighter's play Vacancy in Paradise. After the scene from the play, we had some favorites from the talent show as well as some newcomers showcase their talents. The assembly was hosted by Jessica DeJesus and Shanique Fenlator who were chosen by the student senate.

Mary Carson and Dan Butrymowicz are getting closer than normal.

Time to go back to class!

Greg Fay and Dan Butrymowicz, looking confused.

There's Jessica DeJesus, but where is Shanique Fenlator?

Steven Blethen, reciting a monologue.

Looks like there is No Vacancy in Paradise.

Acting really works up an appetite.

Here are the boys, trying to fill the vacancies in paradise.

Hey! What's in that bag?

Remembering Larry Hayden

Spring 1991

Spring 1998

*Larry Hayden
1949-1998*

If you can find yourself in any of these photographs, you are one of the lucky ones touched by Larry Hayden's love for coaching and love for life. He would be so proud today to see his daughter Emily graduating from EFHS along with the 2003 graduates who appear in these pictures and those who are not present in the photos.

Larry's family lovingly dedicates this page to his memory—on the Enfield soccer fields and, most of all, in their hearts.

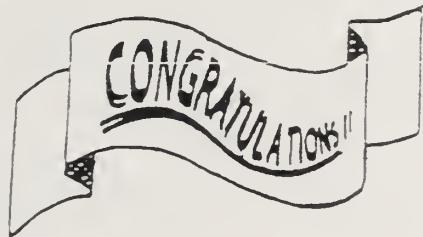

Congratulations Graduates

JOHNSON HEALTH NETWORK

One Family, One Mission... Caring for You

Each member of Johnson Health Network shares a common mission to provide you and the members of your family with the highest quality, most compassionate care possible. What's more, we pride ourselves on offering a complete spectrum of services, enabling local residents, young and old, to get well and stay well right in the comfort of their own community.

Johnson Memorial Hospital, Inc.

201 Chestnut Hill Road, Stafford
860 684-4251 or 860 749-2201

TTY: 860 684-8441

An 89-bed general, acute-care facility offering a full range of inpatient and outpatient services, including: medical and surgical, obstetrics and gynecology, pediatrics, mental health, emergency and intensive care, oncology, rehabilitation and more. In addition to services offered at the Hospital itself, a variety of outpatient services are available in Enfield as well.

Evergreen Health Care Center

205 Chestnut Hill Road, Stafford
860 684-6341

A 150-bed skilled nursing and rehabilitation facility recognized for its superb clinical, therapeutic and recreational programs. The Center's Subacute Rehabilitation Unit is the only one of its kind located on a hospital campus in this region.

Family Birth Suites at the

Nirenberg Center for Women & Infants

Johnson Memorial Hospital
201 Chestnut Hill Road, Stafford
860 684-8118

A beautiful, home-like birthing center featuring six private suites equipped to accommodate patients throughout the birthing experience — for labor, delivery, recovery and postpartum care.

Home & Community Health Services, Inc.

Nirenberg Medical Center
140 Hazard Avenue, Enfield
860 763-7600

A home health and hospice care agency providing high-quality, personalized care 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. The health care team includes registered and licensed practical nurses, home health aides, therapists, nutritionists, social workers, homemakers and other support staff.

Johnson Development Fund, Inc.

201 Chestnut Hill Road, Stafford
860 684-8109

The fundraising arm for Johnson Health Network, supporting Johnson Memorial Hospital, Evergreen Health Care Center, Home & Community Health Services, Johnson Surgery Center, and Phoenix Community Cancer Center.

Johnson Occupational Medicine Center

151 Hazard Avenue, Enfield
860 763-7668

An urgent-care facility providing occupational and industrial medicine expertise and treatment by specialists in the field. The Center provides a broad range of services, including work-related injury treatment, physical exams, drug specimen collection and/or testing, medical surveillance for hazardous material handling and much more.

Johnson Professional Associates, P.C.

A physician practice affiliated with Johnson Memorial Hospital that offers mental health and addiction services.

Mental Health and Addiction Services

151 Hazard Avenue, Suite 4, Enfield
860 763-8040

Johnson Surgery Center

148 Hazard Avenue, Enfield
860 763-7650

A free-standing facility equipped with highly-advanced surgical and diagnostic equipment. The facility provides same-day surgical services and also houses outpatient medical laboratory and radiology services operated by Johnson Memorial Hospital. Among these services are MRI and helical CAT scanning, mammography and ultrasound.

Phoenix Community Cancer Center

142 Hazard Avenue, Enfield
860 272-3030

A state-of-the-art new facility offering a full range of cancer care services, including radiation therapy and medical oncology. The Center also houses an office of the American Cancer Society, a community conference room and an oncology resource library.
